

FCC,

Yours and Ajit Pai's attack on the free internet is disgusting. You are all loathsome vultures acting upon the interests of the TeleCom industry. You are craven, mercenary, and a total failing of every principle of democracy.

I won't try to argue your belief that allowing for profit corporations enact discriminatory bandwidth pricing will increase "freedom", because you do not believe this in good faith. You do not believe anything, certainly not liberty. You care to serve your rich masters and your master wants to extend their vampirism. These monsters of TeleCom seek to expand their profits by exploiting the Creative Commons of the world wide web.

You disgust me, Ajit Pai et al.
I digitally spit on each of you.

Forever a free person of the digital world,
Will Acheson
